

JAMES R. BALSLEY, VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR, DIES AT HOME

Was One of Connellsville's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens.

HAD BEEN ILL MONTHS

Still a Boy When North and South Took Up Arms He Enlisted and Saw Hard Service. Severely Hurt at Gettysburg Was 80 Years Old.

Death removed from Connellsville one of the oldest and most widely known citizens when James Robinson Balsley, 80 years old, retired business man and Civil War veteran succumbed to illness at 11:30 o'clock at his family home 118 North First street, West Side. He had been falling in health for some time past and was unable to leave his room during the past three or four months. He had been confined to his bed for the past six or seven weeks and his condition had been critical since Wednesday.

Mr. Balsley, the twelfth child of George H. and Sarah Shallenberger Balsley, was born in Connellsville December 13, 1843. He was educated in the public schools, attended the old Pineau Quaker Grange, Rock Ridge schools, the few years of school he attended for study and school work. He worked with his father until the outbreak of the Civil War, when, not yet 19 years of age, he enlisted in Company H, 112nd Regiment, Pennsylvania Infantry, as a private. He was mustered out with an honorable discharge, January 26, 1865, with the rank of first sergeant. He saw hard service with the army of the Potomac, sharing the fortunes of that army until the Battle of Gettysburg, where, on the first day of the battle, July 1, 1863, he was severely wounded in both thighs and fell about two hundred yards from where General Reynolds was killed. The first day of the fighting was in favor of the Confederates and as they drove the Federal back three of their lines of battle passed over the prostrate body of Mr. Balsley. After the enemy had been driven back, he was found still alive by the Union searchers and taken to the hospital. He remained in the hospital until July 17, suffering between life and death, when he was taken to the Cotton Factory Hospital at Harrisburg. Youth and a hardy constitution triumphed, and in the latter part of December, 1863, he was sent to the Clifton barracks at Washington, D. C., although severely hurt by the hardships of camp. He was attached to Company A, Seventh Regiment Veteran Reserve and was called to the front when Stuart's Cavalry made its daring raid in the vicinity of Washington. He continued in the service until January 26, 1865. His brother, Captain Joseph Balsley, served in the Twenty-seventh Regiment, Indiana Volunteers. Mr. Balsley returned to Connellsville after being mustered out of the service, and for a time was in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, where he entered the employ of James Calhoun & Company, becoming superintendent of the company's planing mill. He continued with the company until 1882, when he purchased the old plant of David Walker & Company and began business for himself as a planing mill owner and manager of the Youghiogheny Lumber Yard, using the old buildings for the planing mill and the shops and the old Fuller tannery grounds as his lumber yards. On the northwest corner of his property he erected a new building, using the same for a planing mill, and the second for a finishing mill for fine work. Later he erected a two story building on Pittsburg street, on part of the plot now occupied by the McClintock block, which he used as an office and supply house. About the same time he was admitted Dr. S. B. Stahl to a partnership, continuing as J. R. Balsley & Company until 1892, when the business was sold to J. C. Munson and others. Mr. Balsley retired from business for a few years and in 1898 he again established in business under his old firm name, "The Youghiogheny Lumber Yard," located in the West Side. He specialized in every form of building supplies and no orders were too small or too large for his careful consideration.

Mr. Balsley was a good soldier and a good citizen, having always taken a great interest in the welfare of the city. He was one of the oldest members of the Youghiogheny Lumber Yard.

Gulf Refining Company Withdraws Request For Filling Station Permit

By United Press.

The City Planning Commission was informed, at its meeting last night, that the Gulf Refining Company, which purchased a piece of ground in West Crawford avenue from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on which it planned to erect a gasoline filling station, had withdrawn its application for a permit to build.

The withdrawal, announced by T. S. Warner, agent for the Gulf Company, came as a surprise to the commission. The refinery company had stated that they would not forfeit their way into Connellsville, this remark being made after objection to the granting of a permit to the company had been made by Attorney John Dugan, who owns adjoining property. There was no intention on the part of the company, however, it was set forth, to make the entrance of the company a hardship but when the application was presented it was merely held over to allow an investigation of the proposition. The commission was not given an opportunity to pass on the request at all, its members say.

The statement of Mr. Warner indicated the company was not coming

TRAFFIC ON B. & O. SYSTEM AS A WHOLE SHOWING INCREASE

Decline in Car Loadings Less Than in Corresponding Period in 1923.

BETTER COAL MOVEMENT

The better traffic movement on the local divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is, according to information received from Baltimore, representative of conditions on the system as a whole. After several months in which the decline was more or less steady, an increase is developing on practically all divisions.

During the first three weeks in August a total of 182,452 cars were moved on the company's lines, including 114,728 originating on the company's tracks and 67,724 received from connections. This figure is still less than the total of 207,250 cars for the corresponding three weeks a year ago, but the percentage of decline from 1923 is less than for July. For instance, total loadings for the period ended August 21 declined 11.5 per cent under the 1923 period, compared with a 27.4 per cent decline in July.

June loadings were the lowest for any month this year and appear so far to have marked the bottom of the periodic traffic decline. The total for that month was 339,511, compared with 445,596 for July. These figures, as well as the statistics covering August traffic, are taken as an indication that business on the Baltimore & Ohio has reversed its long downward trend and is responding to increased industrial activity. The August leading figures are expected to be reflected favorably in the month's report of operations for that month, due for publication during the latter part of September.

The July report showed the smallest decline in gross carloads of any month in 1924, with the exception of February, which was a longer month this year. The net earnings for July also were the best for any month of the year.

With indications of the long-delayed movement of coal gaining momentum as the winter more closely approaches, Baltimore & Ohio's full traffic is believed to have a fair chance of picking up rapidly. But on August 21, 1924, were 1,374,782, compared with 2,238,570 during the corresponding period last year, a decline of 26.788.

By United Press.

The first tabulation of the vote being taken by The Literary Digest, to indicate the presidential preference of persons taking part, shows that Coolidge is far ahead of both Davis and LaFollette.

Out of a total of 25,798 ballots received, 10,971 were for Coolidge, 5,596 for LaFollette and 3,792 for Davis. Of the 195 free candidates Nations received 193, John 42, Foster 39, Wallace 16 and Paris 12.

Coolidge was the preference of 3,491 voters in Ohio as against 912 expressed for Davis, 765 for LaFollette and 62 for Nations, out of a total of 5,194. Pennsylvania would seem to be as York.

U. S. WILL FAVORABLY CONSIDER INVITATION TO ARMS CONFERENCE

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The United States government will favorably consider an invitation to participate in the international disarmament conference proposed by the League of Nations sub-commission on disarmament provided it is not a strictly league affair, it was indicated today.

Though this country takes the position that land armament is purely a European problem because no large standing armies are maintained in the Western Hemisphere it has an interest in such disarmament.

Probably will be willing to participate in a general conference if asked to do so.

The executive branch of the government has, however, discretion as to American representation at meetings, as for instance, the recent London conference, and if the proposed disarmament conference is of this nature, the United States probably will sit in.

President Coolidge has often expressed his intention of calling a huge disarmament conference after the Dawes plan is successfully in operation and there has been considerable speculation as to the effect the league's proposed conference would have on this plan.

COOLIDGE MAY WIN IN MINNESOTA BY A NARROW MARGIN

Less Discontent Among Farmers Who Fear Effects of a Change.

BIG REPUBLICAN GAINS

In the Last Primaries, Polling 55,000 More Votes than Farmer-Labor Candidates; German Vote a Factor; Minn. Johnson Has Real Opponent

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924 by The Daily Courier.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 20.—Minnesota is a doubtful state in the truest sense of the word and the term has real significance this year for it means that Senator LaFollette has barely captured it yet and that the opportunity of President Coolidge to squeak through by almost as narrow a margin as Hughes did in 1916, are not likely to diminish, but increase between now and election day.

Minnesota is always a difficult state to analyze. The rural districts are inaccessible to polls and canvasses and a large number of foreign and alien voters speak only on election day. The farmers' predominant and the so-called Farmer-Labor party has been winning elections right along in the last few years. It absorbed the Democratic party and became the Democratic party, who felt the pinch of unfavorable economic conditions.

But the discontented ones are not so numerous as they have been and a remarkable improvement in the farm situation may be noted today. The Northwest in diversifying its farming and there's a good wheat crop besides. While it is true that many farmers are bitter and regard the advance in prices as an accident, and they will vote their protest next November, a large number of independents will cast their votes for President Coolidge because they fear the effects of a change in administration.

In addition, the regular Republican strength showed a significant increase in the last primaries. This means that many old time Republicans came back into the fold. The Republican primary totals for United States Senator revealed about 35,000 more votes than all the Farmer-Labor candidates put together. The Democrats polled about 6,000 votes in a state of 900,000 voters. So it will be seen that the fight in this state is between LaFollette and Coolidge.

There are many Germans who have not forgotten the war and they are not so fond of the Dawes plan. They may be counted as LaFollette supporters—not Democrats. Legions met in St. Paul this week and while many a resolution was passed, the word of investigation by the United States Senate.

Nobody is referring nowadays to LaFollette's anti-war speeches or the votes he registered against war measures for war had once been begun. Thus political expediency changes everything and the Republican party, which has LaFollette as its principal thorn in its side, is ignoring the Wisconsin senator's war record. Political managers say it is a two-edged sword and that to revive the war means only to start controversies that are healing nicely.

The German vote would ordinarily be regular Republican and it may so that way this year unless war issues are revived which they probably will not be. Yet the political wayfarer cannot help observing that politics permits of strange alliance on matters that might in other years be a test of 100 per cent Americanism. For saying as much or less than LaFollette a group of misguided politicians served in federal penitentiaries and were granted amnesty only after long years of struggle at Washington.

Some curious results would not be surprising this year in Minnesota. Senator Marcus Johnson has a real opponent in Representative Thomas D. Schall, the regular nominee. Schall is the product of a factional fight among the regulars but he will get the support of all regulars and he has many railroad men behind him. He is blind which wins sympathy for him, and an indefatigable campaigner. He is at it day and night, campaigning for Coolidge with genuine fervor. There are some optimists among the regulars.

EXODUS OF NEGROES FROM WEST NEWTON HAMBERS ROAD WORK

WEST NEWTON, Sept. 20.—Contractor H. F. Stark of Greensburg in the midst of a big construction job in Rostraver township, was forced to appeal to the State Highway Board for protection against heavy financial loss. Since the fatal shooting of Chief of Police George Rae at this place early Tuesday morning, the negro residents of the community have been thrown into a panic.

Mr. Stark is a large employer of negro labor. His men, alarmed by the explosion of dynamite bombs near their sleeping quarters, and the many threats of vengeance if they do not leave town immediately, are appearing at the pay window all dressed up and are asking for their time. A large percentage of the employees have quit the camp and Mr. Stark's operations are seriously handicapped.

Lyman Jones, 32 years old, a negro, was arrested Thursday by County Detective Paul Feighner as he was collecting funds for Scott in the neighborhood of the negro camp. County Detective Feighner Thursday arranged for sending hundreds of photographs of Scott to the police departments in neighboring towns. The state police on Friday widened their scope of operations and have traveled east in their search.

Tools of Insect World Surpass Those of Man

Most of the articles in that great chest of tools that man's inventive genius has contrived were invented by the insect world before he fashioned the first wheel, wrote Ernest Inge, Ph.D., emeritus, in a book recently published in paperback. Insects are usually inferior in precision and versatility. Saw, piler, brocher, augers, hooks, hammers, knives, lances—all of these and yet other tools are in the insect's remarkable chest. Nature attached them to the insects' bodies—to the legs, to the head, to the abdomen, wherever they were needed. They are made of chitin, a material that, unlike the metal tools of man, resists the action of water and the sudden shifts of the insect's body. The insect's tool chest is truly complete, and it is wonderful being the closeness of the resemblance of the articles it contains to the tools that man has been so long in fashioning.

Church Sittings Sold

In certain sections of Region 1 it is still customary to sell by auction, pews in the parish church. The highest bidder secures the use of the pew for a year. On the east coast of Scotland it was quite common 30 or 40 years ago to see an advertisement in the local press offering for sale one of the "bottom breadths" in such-and-such a pew in the parish church. The pews were freehold, and paid taxes in the same way as a freehold dwelling-house. Another reader recalls particulars of the local custom, which states that it "produced so much per annum, free of rates and taxes," and that it was "in a good position," and "went regularly paid."

The interment was made in Mount Washington Cemetery at Perry.

Advices Mothers

MRS. OSCAR R. MOWERY

Harrisburg, Pa.—"During my last pregnancy my nervous way, I got very weak and was so nervous I could not sit still, could not sleep and was completely worn-out. I suffered with pains across my back and up my spine, also had bearing pains. I had indigestion and heartburn very badly. I was just about 'down and out' when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it corrected all my troubles, made me feel well and strong right up to the last. I had comparatively no suffering—the easiest time I ever experienced—and I had a very healthy baby. My advice to the expectant mother is to take 'Favorite Prescription.' It is a wonderful help in motherhood and no woman should go thru this trying time without it. Write for free medical advice."

Do not delay but obtain this "Prescription" now of your nearest druggist, in tablets or liquid, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Write for free medical advice.

Mrs. Whitsett, accompanied by her husband, left August 19 to spend the winter at their old home in Arkansas, and to visit in Texas. It was her intention to remain until the early spring. Mrs. Whitsett was a member of one of the oldest families in this part of the state, and the old Whitsett homestead at Whitsett, antedated the Revolution by several decades. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her family helped found the Christian Church, and throughout life she retained an affiliation with that church and was active in its affairs. When she left Monaca five weeks ago she was apparently in excellent health.

MRS. ISAAC MORGAN.

Rev. C. H. Reall, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Vanderhill, will officiate at the funeral service for Mrs. Isaac Morgan, to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Morgan at Adelphi. Shartzer of Connelville; John of Dawson; Mrs. Ralph Mahol of Ohio; Mrs. Lillian, Mahol, of Delaware and William, Mahol, of Ohio; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Kate Patton, Charles and Henry Dougherty of McKeesport; James Dougherty of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Robert Moore of Pittsburgh.

MRS. B. T. CONNELLY.

Mrs. B. T. Connelly, a well known resident of Brookville, died at her home Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock of complications of disease. The end was not unexpected as she had been ill for some time. Davin at home and Peter J. Davin of Connelville. She is the widow of Michael J. Davin.

Why Some Motorists Praise a Car — and Others Condemn It

SOME motorists are prejudiced against certain makes of cars. They point out troubles which they or friends of theirs have experienced with those cars.

Yet, cars of the same manufacture are highly regarded by other motorists. Some are owners—entirely satisfied. Others have friends who speak nothing but praise for those cars.

"When you hear these differences of opinion, the question of 'lubrication' should immediately come into your mind. Were all parts properly lubricated?

Car owners who use Freedom Perfect Motor Oil get satisfactory service from any make of automobile. Freedom Perfect withstands the high operating temperatures of any motor. Made from "100% Pennsylvania Crude," Freedom Perfect protects for long periods of use.

 Leo Maloney, in the leading role.
 In an exciting western drama of human intelligence. The scenes were taken on the actual locations the story called for. Also, a comedy,
 "Columbus and Isabella" and a chapter of "The Fast Express" is included.

The Soisson

"UNDER TWO FLAGS"—With Priscilla Dean and James Kirkwood in the leading roles, provides splendid entertainment today at the Soisson.
 Priscilla Dean, star of "Under Two Flags," has the colorful role of Cigarette, the French-Algerian girl who was the idol of the French regiment in Algiers. It is a part that only a Priscilla Dean could play with she handles the character with such the same fire and passion that made "The Virgin of Stamboul" of two years ago an epic of the screen.
 Through several decades the position of "Under Two Flags" has grown firmer, until today it is considered one of the six greatest tragedies ever written.
 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday,
 Douglas MacLean will be seen in
 "The Yankee Consul."

The Orpheum

"THE MEANEST MAN IN THE WORLD," showing today at the Orpheum, presents Bert Lytell and Blanche Sweet in the leading roles.
 The story of "the meanest man in the world" surrounds the business life of Richard Clarke, young attorney.
 Clarke is not a success in the practice of law because he lacks the ability to place his business activities on a plain business basis—he cannot, in other words, be mean. How he is told that in order to succeed he must learn to look the world in the face without thoughts of kindness and how he becomes a success is the story of the picture. The picture is a study in how he finally finds the one and only girl in the person of Jane Hudson (Blanche Sweet), provides six weeks of smashing situations and entertainment of the highest quality.
 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
 "The Arab," featuring Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry will be shown.

The Arcade

An announced yesterday the wedding of Walter Brant and Louise Brant took place on the stage of the Arcade Theatre in full view of a capacity audience. The couple were the recipients of handsome gifts from the members of the house and the house manager. The ceremony took place immediately after the first performance. On Monday the Clark Sisters Revue will open a week's engagement. This is a company of 20 people with many features, including a jazz band, big vaudeville specialties and a remarkable singing and dance chorus. The company comes from Butler, where it is playing to capacity houses at every performance. In addition the second episode of the famous Dempsey picture, entitled
 "A Society Knockout," will be shown.
 This has been pronounced by the press and public as the most entertaining short subject to reach the screen in a long time. Dempsey is reported to have earned close to one million dollars on his latest film venture, and if the success of the picture he has earned every cent of it.

No Regular Nail Sizes

Up until about the fifteenth century nails in England were sold by the bus-dred. Nails which sold for 10 cents a hundred were called 10-penny nails, those which sold for 8 cents, 8-penny nails, etc. When the prices changed nails, etc. The names persisted and, finally, came to be used to designate size, says the Detroit News.

Size of Alaska

United Alaska spreads over 17 degrees north and south, or as far as from New Orleans to Duluth, so that some variation of climate might be expected within its borders.
 And east and west, the stretch is 56 degrees, or considerably more than from New York to San Francisco. Plenty of elbow room this way, too, for diversity of climate. The total area is nearly 600,000 square miles, or one-fifth the size of the entire United States—Mary Lee

Boxing and Wrestling May Be Leading Sport in Yough Valley Region This Winter

Vanderbilt Athletic Club Plans to Make Coming Season a Banner One.

STILL PLAYING BALL

Boxing and wrestling will be the main sports in the Yough Valley district this winter, according to the report of the leading sportsmen in the district. Unable to "rake" up a good grid team, lacking a good gymnasium to play basketball, the athletes will have to find other sports to amuse them. Handicapped as they are, they must take the only one remaining, that being the ring. The Vanderbilt Athletic Club will be improved and its surroundings made more familiar to the ring athletes.

With renewed interest in the Vanderbilt Athletic Club, President Peter C. Abate is determined to make this a banner year for the club and expects to enroll close to 300 members before Christmas. A meeting of the club officials is scheduled for October 15 in the club rooms at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

The club expects to run its baseball schedule into the month of October. It is still determined it should be given a chance at the county title. With the close of the baseball season, the town will be free to act with its only sport for the winter.

Gatchel Considered "Ace" of Scottsdale Twirlers for 1924

A review of the record made by the Scottsdale Independents, champions of Westmoreland county, shows that Clyde Gatchel, who was selected when the Morgantown Collegians disbanded, was the real ace, though his record does not compare so favorably with that of last year when he worked in more games. Gatchel, when backed by good support, proved a consistent winner. Jimmy Steele, being the opener to the Harnettville Consensus, was released because of high salary and the necessity for retrenchment. Ed. Layman, who relieved Steele, and who was invaluable for the remainder of the initial contest, and Picard, the latter twice called upon to hold the opposing batters in check. Both jumped to the tubers with Jack Snyder, who was then playing manager. Homer Brown of the Ed. Harvey, Beaver Falls club, was used in only one game, at Homewood, he coming out victorious 8 to 1.

Artman, the former Jeannette moundman, pitched one game, at Akron, where he lost to Jim Vaughn, of the General Tires. Vaughn, later upon recommendation of Herb Kopf, Jeannette game and turned in a one-sided victory, 7 to 1. Lefty Spencer, a short, lefty obtaining credit for a Bellevue victory, Gatchel coming to his rescue when the North Borough aggregation started after the ex-Sackville. Steele, twirler's scalp, Pete Kilday, an outfielder, defeated the Bradnock Elks in a game where Gatchel failed to make his appearance.

"Legs" Roscoe, the former Nash Special twirler, was used in the outfield and in the box. "Legs" jumped to West Newton, where he failed to make much of an impression. Lee Carroll, the Collier-Connellville from man, was signed after the Collier club disbanded. Carroll lost the only important game he pitched, at Uniontown. He finally cast his lot with Jeannette and Millvale, where he finished the season.

Lefty Brown of West Newton, worked in one game at McKeesport, which went to the Tubers by a large score. Of the twirlers used Jim Vaughn of Akron, Ohio, Bill Helmick of Uniontown, Ohio, who relieved Gatchel at Jeannette when the latter weakened, and Gatchel, appeared to be more in line with the personnel of the rest of the club.

CUTLER SAVES GAME.

While Emil Yde was registering his 15th victory of the season, Maxon Cutler, pitcher of the Pirates, stole three bases and saved the tilt for the nonconformists by an amazing catch in the 9th frame, in the Pirates' victory over the second place Dodgers by a 4 to 3 score, at Ebbets Field yesterday. Maxon Cutler, who fared a little better, with Grimes nursing a bruised arm, Uncle Wilbur Robinson may have to call upon his "Dazzler," Danny Vance, to work against the Cubs today. Cooper twirled for the Pirates.

New York easily tumbled the Chicago Cubs yesterday in a one sided battle, 10 to 4, keeping pace with the Pirates who won over Brooklyn.

Two games separate the Giants and the Dodgers and a half game divides the Yankees and the Pirates.

The Washington club jumped one game into the lead in the Johnson baseball victory by defeating a 15 to 8 victory over St. Louis while the

GRIDIRON GIMPSES

A couple of High School boys showed the right kind of spirit last night when they left a party they were attending shortly after 10 o'clock in order to be in bed early. Such instructions having been given by the coaches. There have been seasons when athletes have lagged at such orders and grossly violated them. In spite of the fact that today's game with West Newton is the opener and may not be the toughest of opposition, Jimmy Blaufer and Dick Crum, the latter of Dunbar, gave up their good time and hiked off to get complete rest. Follows with such an interest in the game are a credit to their team and their example is one to be looked to by every other man on the squad.

FOOTBALL IN THE CONNELLSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Football is certainly getting off to a right kind of a start this season. Coach Lerow, not usually conversative, merely remarks that he is "smiling." That possibly may mean a capit.

Capit Van Marietta has a job of his hands this season if he is going to be "in there" every game. When Van develops more of a tendency to leave his feet and make tackles in a manner that means business he will be more certain of his position. The big boy looks far better physically this year than ever before. On the other hand there are some well qualified candidates who want a job on the team regardless of who it displaces, even if it means "benching" the captain. That means more pep and drive to Marietta's playing must be forthcoming.

COACH LEROW

Coach Lerow is doing a very commendable thing when he takes the time to stick to practice long after the varsity has been discharged in order to give the "kiddies" a chance. He is looking to future years and his wisdom can only be applauded. All boys like to mix it up and a scrimmage for all the youngsters once in a while will keep their interest riveted at Fayette Field.

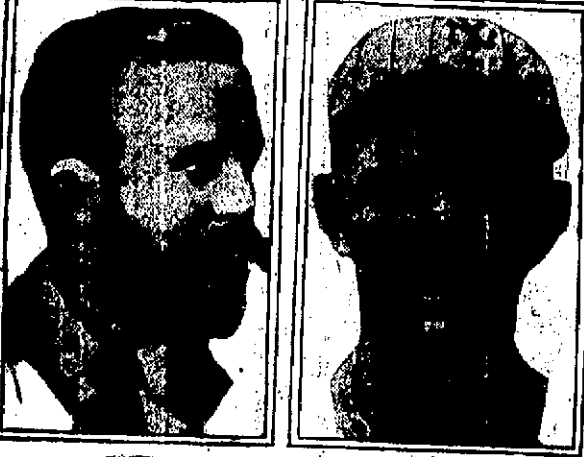

A NUMBER OF GRID TEAMS ARE PLANNING

on going to Washington attend the football opener of Washington and Jefferson College Saturday.

COACHES LEROW AND SETTLE HAD A MEETING

with the members of the football team in the High School building last evening and talked over the plays to be used in today's game. Practically all the boys on the squad were present. The coaches and their boys are good friends and each enjoys association with the other.

OUTSTANDING PERSONS IN THE NEWS.

Albert R. Shattuck and Bob Shawkey.

For his diligence in helping the police run down the bandits who robbed his wife of valuable jewelry, Albert R. Shattuck, of New York City, has been made a Deputy Police Commissioner, by Police Commissioner Bright, of New York City. Mrs. Eulalia B. Shattuck, of Kansas City, Mo., says Bob Shawkey, famous pitcher of the New York American League club, promised to marry her and then changed his mind. She has sued for $25,000. Bishop Edgar Blake, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has gone to Russia to personally express his approval of the separation of the present living Church of Russia from the old Russian Church. Julius Fleischmann, of Long Island and New York City, played the part of host to the British polo players and most successfully.

er. That, in one sense, will account for many touchdowns this season.

Leopold Solcher will be seen in a new position today. He will start the game at quarterback. Last year he was a halfback. Leopold is fast and it is expected to maintain his head under fire and use good generalship he should clinch the position.

Much interest in today's game will center about Earl Fump. The lad started out last season as a freshman year—and with that much experience "under his belt" he may show some improvement this fall.

BASEBALL SQUIDS

John Downey, manager of the Cleve team of the Kew-Forest, has resigned.

Leo (Red) Pope, rookie shortstop, has been sent to Hartford of the Eastern league, by N.Y.

Jacob Ruppert, was re-elected president of the New York American Baseball club at a special meeting of the board.

When Louisville defeated St. Paul 28 to 0 in the game of August 15 a new record was hung up for the American association.

Claude Freeman, pitching for Leno in the Western States league, held Bradburn to no hits and no runs, winning his game, 1 to 0.

Bob McLennan, St. Paul, formerly a member of the St. Paul club of the American association, has been signed by the Milwaukee club of the American association.

Walter Johnson Far Better Hurler Today

"Walter Johnson is a far better pitcher today than when I broke into the American league," says Babe Ruth, champion slugger of the universe. "When I first faced Johnson he was a good ball pitcher," continued Ruth. "Now no pitcher in the American league mixes them up better. 'In the old days against Johnson I used to get set for a healthy swing, as I felt pretty certain I would have nothing but fast ones served me. 'Now it is entirely different. Johnson has a mighty good curve that he breaks in on the bat handle of the left under. His slow ball upsets entirely the batter who is looking for speed.'"

Smelter Clark, an outfielder released by the Cleveland American league team to Chattanooga early in the season, has been recalled.

Max Plack, outfielder of the local National league team, who was obtained from Chicago in May, 1922, has been released to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league.

The Brooklyn club has added another pitcher to its weakened staff, Garner Wilson, left-handed pitcher from Des Moines of the Western league, is the latest addition.

The Boston Red Sox announce the purchase of two new pitchers, one of them T. V. Kiefer from Bay City and the other C. D. Janssen from a summer school at Ogle, Heights, Ark.

Most important to everyone is the coming election in, of course, President Coolidge. With a phenomenal record for his administration of a little more than a year, the President has received billions of dollars in American taxpayers, the President is the outstanding figure of the day in the United States—indeed, in the whole world.

His running mate on the ticket, Charles G. Dawes, is a world figure. His record of achievement in the field of economics is known wherever newspapers are read. It was his suggested solution of the problems with which Europe has been struggling since the war that gave the first ray of light and hope for a better world.

Alfred M. Smith, Governor of New York, definitely has told his friends he will not again run for the office. Personal finances, he said, are the chief reason. The Daily News, a London newspaper, has stated that in London, has kicked up considerable of a stir over the acceptance of $20,000 pounds' worth of stock in a biscuit company by Ramsey MacDonald, Premier of Great Britain. Peter J. Brady, president of the Federation Bank of New York and a delegate from the American Federation of Labor to the Inter-Trade Union convention, said on his return from London that the British labor unionists had quite definitely engineered the labor union in the country in the future. He said that he had met MacDonald, who is a British labor unionist, and that he had met MacDonald, who is a British labor unionist, and that he had met MacDonald, who is a British labor unionist.

Since the amendment to the Constitution extending suffrage to women became effective, woman have been very active part in national politics. In the presidential year they are in the fight for and against the measure. They write mail on both sides—refuting the views of opponents of suffrage who prophesied apathy on the part of women, even if they were granted this privilege and duty.

The National Woman's Suffrage Committee, women play a major role. Under the leadership of Mrs. Alice H. Hort, of Kentucky, who is Vice-Chairman, the women members of the National Committee are working hard, wisely, and well to convince the women voters of their necessity in winning ratification of the White House for the sake of the White House.

Pictured above are three national committeewomen. Mrs. Grace Burpee, of St. Louis, is president from Missouri, and is well known for her organization work in politics. She founded and largely built up the Republican Woman's Club of St. Louis, and was its president, holding that office for two years. She has been president of the National Republican Organization since women came into politics. In addition to that, she is manager of the Women's Coolidge Campaign, and was its first president. Not only in politics has Mrs. Burpee made a name for herself, but she is a gofer of note. A. J. Stephens, of St. Louis, has been her husband for many years. She is a strong friendship for women, as well as the St. Louis City championship. In the center is pictured Mrs. Mildred H. Smith, of St. Louis.

The TRUANT SOUL
by VICTOR ROUSSEAU
COPYRIGHT BY W.G. CHAPMAN

"Joan, can't you begin to build up his life again at thirty-eight, after he has missed everything?" asked Lancaster, after a long silence.

"You have proved that he can," she answered. "But you have not missed everything, my dear. You are a very great man, and a man with a great work in the world. Many men have gone along the path you took, but few have found the strength to turn back as you have done."

"Joan, I want to tell you something. I was engaged to be married once—years ago. She ran away on the evening before our marriage day. It was the beginning of my downfall. I thought I loved her."

His face was haggard. Divining his distress, Joan slipped her hand into his.

"Joan, dearest," said Lancaster, after a pause. "I have often thought that some day I would tell you all the wretched story of the past. But I have been thinking differently today. I was entrapped by an unscrupulous man, who robbed me of everything that made life worth living. But there is nothing that would make me afraid to look my fellow men in the face. It is myself whom I have killed and humiliated. Joan, I want to say nothing, not because I would keep anything from you, but because I want to start my life anew. I shall never go back to the institute."

"You mean, dear?"

"Never. I shall not return tomorrow. I want you to come to the Southwest with me, Joan, my dear. We will drive across the hills to Carroll and catch the through train there. I shall begin to live the new life you have given me. Will you leave everything for my sake, Joan? Is it too hard a request?"

"It is not too hard," she answered. "But it is not right for you."

"It is right for me to leave a living death behind me."

"No, dear. It is running away. You spoke to me of some hidden light, so be fought."

"With nothing to win, Joan—nothing. When I leave here no human being will miss or regret me."

"There is your work at Avonmouth. The air is the healthiest which you have made famous throughout the United States. Your work is there, not in some obscure place where it would be of less use to the world and no example. Besides, consider that if you become famous again, as you must, you will be discovered. And one can never leave his past behind him. That follows everywhere."

"Yes, that is true," muttered Lancaster, staring out over the darkening hills. "What I leave to you, my dear, but to go back to fight on a futile battle seems to me now something unendurable."

"You must go back to the institute, and then to Avonmouth, and meet our enemies, Joan," she said. "I shall be at your side. Nothing will make me afraid, or weaken my love for you."

His face twitched. "Not if you think things which prove me worthless of your love?" he asked. "Not if you find I am an outcast man who has deserved his misfortunes?"

She only smiled at him. "I shall not judge you by your words," she said. "Not yet by other men's opinions, but by your knowledge of you."

"Then I shall tell you everything," he answered, drawing Joan's hand into his. "Everything, but not here. Here I shall keep the peace of the hills within my heart, and you must."

So they strolled back toward the cabin, and Joan's drab-colored life was transmuted in this, her first love, to gold. She lived in her love, she trusted wholly in him who had brought love to her, not like a conquering god, but in the simplest guise, making it the unfolding of her own loving nature. She gave her youth, her innocence as love's price, and thought the exchange her profit. There was never such peace of mind in any place as there that evening, and in Joan's heart was abounding peace likewise.

When they reached the cabin the patient was better. Lancaster spent the evening giving detailed instructions to the man's wife.

"I shall do my best to come again if I am needed," he said. "But I can't promise. I may be called to Avonmouth, at any moment. Keep him quiet, as for heaven's sake keep him absolutely motionless for a week, and then let him sit up if he wants to. And nothing to eat but the schedule I am making out for you."

Afterward Joan told Lancaster that she wished to stay for a few days to take care of the man. But Lancaster would not hear of it.

"These hill people never die," he said. "I'll be up and about before the week is over."

"But the diet?"

"They'll feed him on soda biscuits as soon as he's well enough to eat anything. Fortunately he won't be able to eat for a week, so he won't come to any harm. I shall send Joan over two or three times to report progress."

Joan's room was a tiny place under the eaves. She spent a sleepless, happy night there, thinking over the happiness that had come to her. It was strange and wonderful to lie awake under the same roof that sheltered Lancaster, and to reflect how soon these lives would flow together, calmly, in their own country. She could not have wished any happier fate in life.

AUSTRALIA HAS SCHEME TO TREBLE POPULATION

Big Armies of British Workers and Other Desirable European Immigrants Are Sought.

London—Australia is seeking suitable immigration, and a scheme has been prepared to increase the population to 20,000,000, according to a statement issued by the department of labor and industry in Sydney, N. S. W. The population now is about 5,000,000. The plan, devised by General Earle, is based on army methods, and will be brought before the Colonial Institute for consideration. It is stated that big armies of British workers will be necessary to insure a British basis for the new settlement, and that modern conveniences of civilization which make for permanency must be provided.

To feed and clothe the newcomers during pioneering and at the same time teach them up-to-date methods of earning a livelihood from the soil will call for order and discipline, hence the proposed adoption of army methods. The suggested conditions for settlers are: British origin or approved European nationality; voluntary agreement for three months as a pioneer worker; a deposit of $250; six months' pay kept in hand, a basis of 48 hours' work a week; free transport, housing and feeding; care and instruction, hospital accommodation and medical aid; efficiency, deferred pay and, on completion of contract, a potential freehold, complete after three years' domicile as a citizen, with house and equipment in a closer settlement area and a bonus of $480.

At the same time the report of the overseas settlement delegation, appointed by the British government to secure information regarding the prospects of immigrants in Australia, expresses the opinion that the arrangements for the reception and care of immigrants constitutes a solid testimony of the state to their responsibilities and give the newcomer a fair start.

It is thought by members of the delegation that the mounting system is the safest that can be devised and it was particularly impressed with the possibilities for the absorption of boys between sixteen and eighteen years of age. The delegation was also impressed with the extensive activities of the state governments in the development of land settlement schemes.

The report dwells on the difficulties in the way of rapid settlement of immigrants, particularly married men with families on farms of their own but members of the delegation were struck by the evidence of the ability of immigrants to succeed on the land. It was thought that the absorption of 50,000 persons during the present year could be hoped for.

At a conference of state and federal immigration officers held in Melbourne to consider methods for the training of assisted immigrants, it was decided to recommend that, where the number of arriving immigrants warranted action, farm training camps should be established and the cost should be borne equally by the commonwealth and state governments. The length of training was to be left to the state authorities.

Continue Search for "Lost" Arizona Mines

Of all the legends of buried treasure the most persistent is the one about the lost gold mines of Arizona. Only the Indians are supposed to possess the secret of this haunting mystery, although the story has been circulated for more than a century.

That there once were mines in the region is indicated by references found in early Spanish diaries and by the tales passed down through several generations of natives who were compelled to dig the ore as slaves of their conquerors. The chief evidence in support of the tradition is the altar of the San Xavier mission, not far from Tucson. It is described as being "inlaid with virgin gold." Mission records show that the precious metal was brought from Canada del Oro where it was mined by Indians under the direction of Spanish priests.

But no trace now exists of the dig sites and the old trail over which the gold is said to have been carried by pack mules has disappeared completely. "Popular Mechanics" Magazine.

Birds as Prophets

In early days superstitious people paid considerable attention to the birds and their different cries, which were believed to foretell events. Thus comes the old saying, "A little bird told me." "Traces of this belief are to be found in our own Old Testament where verse 26, of chapter 10 of Ecclesiastes, speaks of "for a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter." It is generally agreed that it is from this belief in the universal knowledge of birds, which, of course, are supposed to see everything from the sky—that we get this saying.

ABE MARTIN

On th' Blessings of a Dry Nation

IT WUZ LIKE THIS IN TH' OLDEN DAYS.

"I don't care what anybody says, prohibition has worked wonders," declared Mrs. the Lark, whose husband got all th' way home with a watermelon today. An' she's right, for prohibition has done a heap. On all th' ole saloon corners we find thriving fillin' stations, vulcanizin' concerns, an' sandwich bazars, an' if a husband is late for dinner his wife knows that he's been knocked down an' killed, or detained by a blow out, an' got squanderin' his wages for drink. An' another thing, very few are caracin' enough t' buy a quart, quietly, an' if it wuzn' for auto smashups, we'd never know ther wuz any drinkin' goin' on. If we kept out o' society, of course, crowded theaters, an' dance halls, often small like varnish factories, or hair tonic laboratories; but th' ole combination whiskey, garlic an' clove fumes are unknown today. It's easy nowadays t' tell whether a son-tipples or not, if he doubles up in a knot, we know he's just beginnin' an' it's not too late t' take him in hand. Ther's nothin' available today. Nobody lives long enough t' become a drunkard, an' no-buddy but a feller with a concrete constitution kin remember where he got his second drink if he survives his first one. We notice lots o' difference in our ole friends o' pre-war days. Some of them are a little fatter an' hain't got as many good stories t' tell, but if they say they'll be back in ten minutes they nearly always keep ther word. An' how much cleaner ther vests are! Prohibition must o' hit th' clothes cleanin' industry an' credit wallow. But one o' th' best things about prohibition is that when a feller wants t' git lit up he can't git th' stuff, an' when it is flowin' freely he don't want it. Ther's laws agin counterfeitin' an' murder, but a lot o' folk violatin' 'em, an' th' same with th' prohibition law. It has its violators but ther soon policed an' ferkotten. Bootleggin' 'll solve itself if we'll just let th' bootleggers alone. Th' great bulk o' th' drinkin' is done amid th' sweet and gentle influences o' th' home these days an' is not paraded on th' public square or in crowded cafes. Another thing—in th' ole days o' good liquor a feller used t' mix it with his business an' kill his business, but today it kills th' feller an' his wife gits his business. Ther's jest one thing that th' prohibition enthusiasts fell down on in th'ir glowin' prospectus o' th' wonderful things prohibition would accomplish, an' that's ther proposition that it would empty th' jails an' prisons. But ther wuz bound t' be a violent reaction fellerin' th' closin' an' o' anything as long standin' an' popular as th' ole saloon. What did we think would become o' th' hundreds o' thousands o' hums after they dredd o' th' no more cold slaw an' fried liver t' fall back on?

Terrier Adopts Squirrels

Napa, Cal.—At the Edward Maxwell ranch in Coonville, east of Napa, two five-week-old gray squirrels are being mothered by a fox terrier, and both squirrel and "mother" seem to be enjoying the experience. Maxwell found the baby squirrels deserted in a nest upon his place, and placed them in charge of the dog, who accepted them with affection.

It is surprising how quickly a Buick owner accepts, as a matter of course, the dependability of his car. He thinks no more of setting off for a thousand-mile jaunt than he does of driving down town—so complete is his confidence in Buicks continuous performance.
